

The archetypal Life wheel v0.1

The life wheel is an old classic. It will help you get a clear idea of the state of your life at the start of this journey. When the Reclaim your Inner Throne experience has ended, you will repeat the life mapping, seeing the progress you have made.

My hope is that the archetypal twist on this old classic will help you see your archetypal strengths and weaknesses more clearly.

With a pen or pencil, fill as much of the spectrum from the center out as feels fitting of your life situation. The more you fill, the happier you are with this part of your life.

Be honest with yourself here. You are not trying to convince anyone of your greatness. This is about you serving yourself and that requires the humility of straight self-talk.

■ Sovereign

■ Warrior

■ Magician

■ Lover

If you should desire more categories, turn the page and list them there.

I also encourage you to offer feedback if you feel improvements can be made to this diagram.

Note! If you are reading this without being on the Reclaim your Inner Throne course, I encourage you to take full advantage of it on one condition: Go to www.inner-throne.com/share and share it with two friends. By paying it forward, this material will spread faster and impact more people. Thank you for your service and integrity. – Eivind FS